CLIENT TESTIMONIALS

"Kent assists with our Leadership class, running the low and high elements experiential challenge course.

A ropes course manager must possess knowledge and intuition about teamwork, picking up on each individual's abilities and quickly building trust. Kent has always come through with flying colors as a leader. This ability has translated into a tightly-bonded leadership group. Above all, Kent's Texas-size personality brings kinetic energy to his client's projects!"

"Kent has unbelievable energy that is thrown into every project that he takes on. His passion for getting connected with people, staying connected with people and helping them be successful makes Kent an incredible professional to be connected to."

~Darel Baker, Owner, Keldar Leadership Solutions (Canada)

Darel Baker

"There have been very few who have left a long lasting impact and positive influence on the way I perceive leadership. I was fortunate enough to connect with Kent Hutchison and attend one of his training sessions on one of his trips to India.

His training skills are impeccable. Usually training sessions are boring and attendees usually seem uninterested; however, it is not the case if the training session is being conducted by Kent. He knows very well how to keep people engaged in a conversation, and encourages equal participation from people attending the training session. He has an eye for detail and will focus more on a participant who is either introvert or has stage fear. He makes the training session enjoyable and constructive to benefit all that are a part of the session."

ABOUT KENT HUTCHISON

A recognized leader, facilitator, and trainer, Kent Hutchison has 24 years of experience in employee development and training. He is currently the principal consultant and senior partner with C.J. Baxter Group, LLC (www.cjbaxtergroup.com), an employee development consultant firm based in Nacogdoches, Texas.

Kent regularly facilitates leadership and team retreats for community organizations and businesses. Kent is popular and comfortable with both executive and blue collar leaders – utilizing his experience as a former university administrator and as a former manager in the petrochemical/construction environment.

You can find Kent keynoting at professional conferences, and banquets and dinners. Each Spring you will find him facilitating public workshops/programs at both Lamar State College-Orange as well as Stephen F. Austin State University (SFA); along with guest lecturing at the University of North Texas.

Originally from Orangefield, Texas; this fifth-generation Texan, who now calls Nacogdoches, Texas home, is very involved as a community volunteer. A former volunteer fire fighter, Kent is currently engaged with several non-profit boards of directors where he holds multiple leadership roles.

One can expect an engaging and interactive presentation from Kent.
